

The Office of Financial Services

401 S. State Street
Suite 313
Chicago, IL 60605

Missing Parental Information

You did not include information about your parents on your FAFSA even though you are considered a dependent student based on federal guidelines.

In order for Robert Morris University to move forward with your financial aid process we need you to correct your FAFSA with parental information OR contact your Admissions Counselor (prospective students) or your Financial Services Advisor (current students) to explain why you are unable to include parent information on your financial aid application.